Few characters in the story of America are as well known and admired as the cowboy. Whether it is on the ranch, on the trail, or in the rodeo arena, the cowboy personifies a way of life that has always had a universal appeal. While there are few of us who have the privilege of living out our fantasies by being a cowboy, many of us are cowboys at heart.

Cowboys at Heart is a group of people who feel strongly that the cowboy way should not be forgotten in the rush through our technological society. Through their songs, poems and tales, they present the stories of life in the old west. Be it on a cattle drive or on the streets of Laredo, the cowboy was presented with a unique set of circumstances. His approach to handling these circumstances is the cowboy way and provides the source for the material used by the group,

Miss Jennifer (Jennifer Owen), Miss Nancy (Nancy Carpenter), Doc (John Parkin), Tascosa Kid (Scott Owen), Duck Creek Dude (Howard Johnson), and Sheriff Randy (Randy Welch) offer you a taste of the old west through their blend of costumes, music and verse. They may not be real cowboys, but you will see that they are definitely -
